FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE PROGRAMS

USTDA Making Global Local Initiative

One of the U.S. Trade and Development Agency's (USTDA) primary activities is the grant funding of feasibility studies and other project planning activities for major projects in developing and middle-income countries. The studies are conducted by U.S. private sector firms and represent a wide range of host government high priority sectors, including energy, transportation, telecommunications, information technology, manufacturing, minerals development and the environment. Visit www.ustda.gov to view information on current business opportunities and market intelligence, and subscribe to USTDA news, alerts, trade leads and updates.

Trade Adjustment Assistance for Firms

Trade Adjustment Assistance for Firms (TAAF) is a federal grant program funded through the Economic Development Administration (EDA), U.S. Department of Commerce. The program assists U.S. manufacturers by paying a portion of professional consultant expenses and industry-specific expert services to improve their business competitiveness.

TAAF partners with manufacturers by offering grant funding from $30,000 (75/25 cost share) up to $150,000 (50/50 cost share) to implement strategic projects that are focused on improving a firm's internal operations and competitive abilities. Examples of TAAF project opportunities include manufacturing, engineering and production; marketing and sales; financial and general management; and IT support systems.

Learn more about the TAAF program at www.taacenters.org or contact the Mid-America TAAC at 800.336.8205.
